WRITE YOUR LEGISLATOR

You Are Important!

You can work to improve Indiana's Labor Standards. Your letter, telegram or phone call can be a deciding factor in how a legislator votes in a bill.

Contacting Lawmakers

The best persons to inform of your opinion on a bill are your own representatives. In Indiana, each voter is represented by one State Senator and at least one State Representative in the State Legislature (sometimes more) and also in the U.S. Congress. Since you are one of the people responsible for electing these officials, they should be eager to respond to you.

If a bill is under consideration in the Indiana House of Representatives, your Representative needs to know your opinion. If a bill is under consideration in the Senate, contact your Senator.

If a bill has been referred to committee, contact the committee members, especially those who represent your legislative district. To find out if a bill is "in committee" and who the committee members are, call the Legislative Services Agency in Indianapolis (317-232-9856).

The procedure for contacting a member of Congress is the same as contacting a state legislator. Very often these congressional members have local offices with whom you can register your opinions. This information is relayed to Washington when the Senator or Representative is there.

Remember, always be clear, concise, and courteous.

Letters

Address your letters as follows:

Honorable (name)
The State House
Indianapolis, IN 46204

Dear Senator (name): or

Dear Representative (name):

In the letter:

1. State the bill or issue you are writing about.
2. Refer to only one bill per letter.
3. Do not use a form letter.
4. Write the letter yourself.
5. Use your own stationery.
6. Be sure your name and address are included and are legible.

When writing to express your opinion on a bill, mention the bill by number if possible, and make your point. Keep your letter short and sweet. Explain why you believe the legislator should take the action you recommend. Any detailed information or personal circumstances you want to send to support your opinion should be included in your letter.

Conclude with:

Sincerely,

(your name and address)

Telegrams

A wire or telegram, although not as fast as a telephone call, is perhaps the most impressive indication that you want to get your message to a legislator. Once again, be sure to be clear, concise and courteous.

To send a wire, call Western Union Telegram Company. (Check your phone book for a local office.) Open 24 hours a day, Western Union offers several types of wires, delivered at varying rates of speed.

PUBLIC OPINION MESSAGE: within 12 hours. This service includes a message of 20 words or less.

MAILGRAM: with next-day mail delivery for a message of 50 words or less.

TELEGRAM: immediately or within 3 to 5 hours for a message of 15 words or less, telephones to destination: extra charge for a message of 15 words or less delivered.
(prices are subject to change)

When sending a wire, be sure to give your name and address and specify to whom the wire goes and his/her address. The cost of a wire may be charged to your home phone, billed to you directly, or charged to a major credit card.

Western Union offices have the names of all legislators on file, and provide special rates on messages sent to all Senators, or Representatives if the messages and sender are the same for all wires sent. Contact the local Western Union office for more information.

Telephoning

Legislators may be reached by phone at their local offices or their respective Indianapolis or

Washington, DC offices. When you call a legislator, you may not be able to reach her or him directly, but leave your name and phone number, mention where you live and the bill you are calling about. Discuss only one bill, by number if possible.

When a legislator or staff person returns your call, state your message, once again, clearly, concisely, and courteously.

Following the conversation, thank the legislator, and if possible, send her or him a short written summary of the conversation.

If you are concerned about a national issue, you may call the White House public comment desk, 202-456-7639, between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. EDT.

Government Officials

Cabinet Members With Dates of Appointment

Although the Constitution made no provision for a President's advisory group, the heads of the three executive departments (State, Treasury, and War) and the Attorney General were organized by Washington into such a group; and by about 1793, the name "Cabinet" was applied to it. With the exception of the Attorney General up to 1870 and the Postmaster General from 1829 to 1872, Cabinet members have been heads of executive departments.

A Cabinet member is appointed by the President, subject to the confirmation of the Senate; and as his term is not fixed, he may be replaced at any time by the President. At a change in Administration, it is customary for him to tender his resignation, but he remains in office until a successor is appointed.

The table of Cabinet members lists only those members who actually served after being duly commissioned.

The dates shown are those of appointment. "Cont." indicates that the term continued from the previous Administration for a substantial amount of time.

With the creation of the Department of Transportation in 1966, the Cabinet consisted of 12 members. This figure was reduced to 11 when the Post Office Department became an independent agency in 1970 but, with the establishment in 1977 of a Department of Energy, became 12 again. Creation of the Department of Education in 1980 raised the number to 13.
